CHIEF CALLED POLICE SHOOT TO STOP AUTO WITH BIG WHISKY CARGO

Roush Testifies Before Grand Jury On Last Day of Session

Reason Kept Secret, But Believed in Connection With Vice Probe

Chief of Police O. J. Roush was called and testified before the Allen-co grand jury Wednesday. The jury probably will finish its work late Wednesday and a report is expected immediately.

The purpose of calling Roush was kept secret by Prosecutor John L. Cable and his assistant, Eugene T. Lippincott, although it is hinted that a vice probe has been under way and that it was in this connection that the chief was wanted to testify.

It is known that a number of indictments already have been drawn by the jury. Sixty witnesses have been called to testify since the body resumed its work Monday after a recess from October 9.

An inspection of the county institutions probably will be made before the probers are dismissed by the court.

The bringing here from the Ohio penitentiary Tuesday of Fred Harpiston, serving time for shooting Dewey Baker, strengthened the rumor that Cable was conducting a probe of crime and vice.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS ARE READY

NEWS WRITER MAKES SURVEY

NOW FOR EVERYONE IN LIMA

(By RO MARY CHRISTEN)

Why couldn't Christmas shopping be done now as well as a month hence? That was the question which arose in my mind and which caused me to make a survey of Lima shops where Christmas presents usually are bought.

What I found convinced me that those who put off buying their presents, especially in many lines, will be the losers. I was surprised to find so many things always eagerly sought after at Christmas time on display in the stores now. Another thing which impressed me was the lower prices prevailing as compared with last year. There really has been a big reduction.

Several store proprietors told me they already have made many sales for Christmas. They said people on many occasions told them they wanted to avoid the rush always on a few days before the big holiday. They said most of these early sales have been of the more sensible gifts. One department store head mentioned a heavy sale of a certain kind of blankets which many customers said they were purchasing for gifts.

SALE BUYING INDICATED

This early trade indicates, many believe, a sane buying season for Christmas. Many merchants who caused the matter, said they believe the public will seek sensible gifts this year, jassing up the luxuries demanded to a great extent when the country was in the midst of a spending orgy.

I went first to the department stores and was amazed at the beautiful array of suitable presents. I am not looking for the expensive things like fur coats and diamond necklaces, but the more practical and inexpensive articles which make up the great bulk of the holiday trade.

The first thing that caught my eye in the department stores was beads—beads of all sizes, shapes, colors and description which are worn much now. Next was the silk hosiery, always good for gifts, hankies, handkerchiefs, silk and linen gloves in kid, silk and suede cluny and madras. Hunches set in regard to the more practical, useful, purses, which are always acceptable and there are many new designs and materials this year, veils in the latest style and articles of the more intimate nature in which there are wonderful possibilities as gifts.

I was looking for gifts from the standpoint of a woman, you can easily see that, although I did get some pointers later on men's needs.

ART DEPARTMENT SUGGESTIONS

In the art departments of the department stores one could almost do all their buying for Christmas. The list of articles to be found is too long to set down, but the fancy baskets, tapestry table runners, dainty bonnet lamps and telephone covers especially appealed to me.

There were so many beautiful new things to be had in these stores that I couldn't see any reason for waiting to buy.

"Next I went to the bookstores, always a faithful stand-by at Christmas time. I found they were fully stocked and ready to meet me in any demand. Books new ones there were in abundance. I asked for the names of some of the best sellers at this time and was given information. George Barr McCutcheon's "West Wind Drift," Katherine Burdett's "The Hidden Creek" (Miss Burr's was the author of "The Branding Iron" which was run serially in The Lima News), and "The Valley of the Silent Men," and "John Galsworthy's 'In Chancery' and a number of others. In addition to the fine list of books, many other articles, such as articles for gifts. There is the big array of daily calendars, note books, appointment pads, desk sets, fountain pens, card cases, etc. But the thing that is always in good taste for gifts is to be found at other stores as well as bookstores. Stationery in many colors and styles to suit everyone. Candles, odd and beautiful, together with artistic sticks I also placed on my list.

JEWELRY IS ATTRACTIVE

Then to the jewelry stores. Can anyone think of a jewelry store without suggesting a gift? I was not disappointed in these for I found them in equal readiness with the other stores to supply even the most exacting Christmas shopper. There are presents suitable for every member of the family from baby to grandparents. It would be useless to attempt to give a list of the possibilities to be found in these stores and to give a partial list would not do them justice.

At the furniture stores I was as well pleased with the offerings. The articles to be found, always more or less staple, appealed to me in many ways. I could see the many opportunities offered for gifts in the full stocks of all the places I went. No man or woman really desiring to purchase a gift could fail to find something to their liking here. There are suitable for every individual member of the family and an abundance of things suitable for a present to a family which all could enjoy.

In the music stores, I found were all the things to fill the stockings of the "good boy and girls" this year. The scores of different models of talking machines, records, pianos and other musical instruments as well as sheet music offer a wide range from which to pick and choose. I found that many of the articles of gift making an admirable gift.

Altogether I spent most of my time looking at things women like, I ventured into a number of men's stores in order that I might not slight them thru failing to give the fair ones some suggestions on what to buy for their husbands, brothers, fathers or sweethearts. The clerks were very nice and explained that the old standby necktie would be in demand this year as usual. They showed me the new lines from which it seemed, anyone could pick a tie that even the crankiest of men could not object to. There were many new patterns and styles. Of course, there were gloves, hosiery, silk shirts, handkerchiefs, scarfs, collars, umbrellas and many other things the men would be disappointed if they did not get Christmas morning.

SHOE DEALERS PREPARED

The shoe merchants explained to me that their Christmas shipments are here and ready. Everyone knows of the things to be found in shoe stores for Christmas. Probably the most popular article is slippers and there are plenty of these for all. Shoes are bought extensively at this time of year, not only for presents but thru necessity and I was convinced that even the most fastidious can be satisfied in Lima's shoe stores.

Parents will have little trouble in finding toys for the children. Already they are on display and everything to make the heart of a boy or girl glad is to be found. I believe the toy display this year will surpass any shown since before the war.

I have not told you of all the things I saw which would make nice gifts. There wouldn't be room in the paper for anything else if I did and the "cheap" and "city" editors might be jealous if I set all the space. But I am convinced that you will agree with me if you make the rounds of the various stores that there is nothing to be gained by waiting to do your Christmas shopping. DO IT EARLY! It will pay you.

Fitting Observance of Armistice Day Will Be Made.

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Public Asked to Assist—Line of March Fixed.

Extensive arrangements are being made by William P. Gallagher, Post No. 96 of the American Legion with Sergt. Robert H. Long, of the local U. S. army recruiting station, for the appropriate observance in Lima Thursday of Armistice Day.

The mammoth celebration staged two years ago when a truce was signed between Germany and the Allies bringing to a close the horrible war in history, will be recalled to those who were then in the uniform of the United States forces and those who eagerly awaited the safe return of the heroes to their homes.

All persons are urged to get in the spirit of the event and help celebrate that joyous day of two years back.

At 11 o'clock the hour the document was signed two years ago in Europe, all factory whistles in Lima will blow in concert, while church bells will toll in memory of those boys who gave their lives that freedom would not be limited.

(Signed) Woodrow Wilson.

The Mayor's proclamation said:

"Whereas the American nation recognizes that Armistice Day is of national significance and whereas the President of the United States by Executive Order has directed that the flag of the United States be displayed at half mast on Sunday, November 14, 1930, and that flags be flown at all military posts and on Federal buildings in commemoration of our heroic American soldiers, sailors, marines and others who gave their lives to their country in the World War."

JILTED GIRL DIES BY OWN HAND

Texas Young Woman Stabs Herself in Chicago Hotel.

FALLS AT FEET OF LOVER

Trade Commissioner Promised to Marry Her, Claim.

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Inquiry into the facts leading to the death of Miss Theodora Sanders, 29, Laredo, Tex., who stabbed herself with a dagger and fell dead at the feet of the man who had just told her he did not love her any more, was made at the inquest here Wednesday.

Police, searching Miss Sanders' room, found playing cards on a table, with indications that she had been telling her fortune. The ace of spades, the death card, was found slashed with a knife. Police believe Miss Sanders had made up her mind to die before she met Harry H. Garver, trade commissioner for the Chicago Association of Commerce. The tragedy occurred on the mezzanine floor of a downtown hotel.

PARTING OF WAYS

According to police, Miss Sanders, ward of Laredo banker, and descendant of a Spanish family, killed herself after Garver suggested to her they meet no more.

"It is our last meeting," she said. She rose and struck herself twice in the breast with a Mexican dagger.

Garver, since said, admitted he had courted Miss Sanders. He met her, he said, while on a trip thru the southwest, with Chicago business men.

"But she was too temperamental," said Garver. "Too much fireworks."

PROMISED MARRIAGE

Garver, police said, married Miss Sanders in 1919 and had promised Miss Sanders he would marry her, police said.

The divorce, however, was never granted.

Among Miss Sanders' effects were discovered many of Garver's letters to her.

One of them read as follows:

"My dear precious girl I am crazy to see you, dear girl I love you with my body and soul and being I'd love to take you in my arms and give you a big kiss—lots of them. A million kisses to my dear, and precious sweetheart."

McGannon may be called to the witness stand late Wednesday.

PLOT TO MURDER FAMILY BARED

Kansas Boy Hires Man to Kill Relatives. Claim.

ATTEMPT IS FRUSTRATED

Alleged Would-Be Slayer Confesses Conspiracy.

NORTON, Kas. — (By United Press) — Carl Johnson, 17, made an unsuccessful attempt last Tuesday night to murder an entire family of five of Almena, near here, according to charges filed in the district court here.

He was to receive a fee of $200 for performing the act, according to an alleged confession, which involved an 18-year-old son of the family.

CONFESSION MADE

Young Johnson was said to have confessed that Elmer Helsenman, 18, agreed to pay him $200 for killing his father, Jacob Helsenman; his sister, Faye; his mother, his grandmother, and his brother. The family was to be exterminated so Elmer could inherit the estate, it is alleged.

The wholesale murder was planned in Almena, Johnson said. Elmer Helsenman obtained a small calibre revolver, which he gave to Johnson to use in shooting the family. It is alleged the victim was to be slain while they were eating supper.

FIRE ON FAMILY

Johnson approached a window of the home, saw the family seated at the table and opened fire. He fired six shots, one shot wounding the daughter Faye in the arm, and another striking the grandmother's neck.

After firing the shots, Johnson dropped the gun and ran. Jacob Helsenman gave chase.

Johnson later was captured in Almena. At his preliminary hearing, he is said to have made the confession involving Helsenman. Following Johnson's hearing, Helsenman was taken into custody. Both were bound over for trial in the district court.

ULTIMATUM SENT JUGO-SLAVIA

Italy Issues Last Demands in Adriatic Question.

RAFALE, Italy — (By Associated Press) — In what may be considered an ultimatum sent to the Jugo Slav delegation here regarding the pending negotiations between Italy and Jugo Slav over the Adriatic question, Count Sforza, the Italian foreign minister, as head of the Italian delegation, laid down Italy's definite minimum claims. These, the document stated, were:

"First—The frontier, including the Julian Alps, Nevoso mountain and the railway from Fiume to St. Peter Junction.

"Second—Territorial contiguity between Fiume and Italy.

"Third—Fiume to be a state entirely independent without any control by the league of nations.

"Fourth — Annexation of the islands of Lussini Piccolo and Cherso to Italy.

"Fifth—The annexation of Zara to Italy.

"Sixth—The annexation of several of the Jugo Slav islands to Italy for strategic reasons.

"Seventh—Guarantees for the protection of the Italian minorities in Dalmatia remaining under Serbian rule.

"Eighth — Demilitarization of some of the Dalmatian positions which will be allotted to Serbia."

It is stated the Italian minimum terms were presented on the request of the Jugo Slav delegation. The Jugo Slavs were said to consider the Italian terms excessive, but they reserved their reply until the claims had been further examined.

U. S. GOODS LEAD

Rank First in Norway, Trade Commissioner Reports.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The popularity of American goods in Norway is described in a report to the department of commerce by Trade Commissioner Nels A. Bengtson, which says that American automobiles and trucks are so predominant that they give a distinct American touch to street traffic in many of the cities.

Discussing the opportunities for American products in the Norwegian market, Commissioner Bengtson reported that in general the high quality of American tonics and mechanism was conceded and the expression was frequently heard that American goods ranked first in quality although somewhat higher in price than the same type of goods from the United Kingdom, Sweden or Germany.

Four Men and 96 Quarts of Kentucky Liquor Held at Headquarters After Exciting Chase—Came Here in Springfield Automobile

Prisoners Refuse to Divulge Name of Lima Man for Whom Cargo was Intended—One Has Blood On Shirt but No Wound

Four men were held at the city police station Wednesday afternoon, awaiting arraignment before Municipal Judge Emmett Jackson, on charges of unlawfully transporting whiskey into Lima, after they had been taken on Bellefontaine-ave, near the Fair Grounds, shortly before noon by a trio of police officers, the culmination of a brief chase, in which a fusillade of shots were fired at the tires of the speeding auto, carrying a cargo of whiskey.

The men were registered as Frank L. Doffe, 32, and James Dwyer, 23, Detroit, Mich.; Harry Morton, 26, Cleveland; Harry Greeves, 19, Springfield.

TIP RECEIVED BY MAYOR FROM BELLE CENTER EARLY TODAY

About 10:30 a. m. Wednesday Mayor F. A. Burkhardt received a telephone call from an unidentified party at Belle Center, Logan-co, the information being afforded that four men with a cargo of whiskey were en route toward Lima, in a Buick Six touring car, carrying Ohio license No. 275106.

Chief of Police O. J. Roush detailed Detective Joe Reed and Patrolmen Mike Laughlin and Tom Lawler on the case. The officers started south on Bellefontaine-ave, with instructions from the chief to stop the machine and arrest the occupants.

The whiskey laden touring car was passed on the road by the officers and when they turned and took up the chase, the occupants of the car refused to stop.

Shots were fired at the tires of the speeding car, when the officers saw a heavy dark looking object thrown from the whiskey car into the ditch. Recovered later, the object proved to be a 45-calibre Colt revolver, loaded. The car was halted and the men surrendered.

Greeves is a driver from a Springfield auto garage, Chief Roush stated. The men would make no statement, save that they were transporting the wet goods, seven cases, comprising 96 quart bottles of Comet whiskey from Kentucky to Lima, "for another party," whose identity they refused to divulge.

The men made the trip from Kentucky to Springfield in another car, and were compelled to abandon it in the Clark-co city because of a broken spring, securing the Buick car there, with the services of a driver.

ONE OF PRISONERS HAS BLOOD ON HIS COAT WHEN ARRESTED

The whiskey had not been removed from the paper cartons and the bottles were partially wrapped in and covered with gunny sacks.

One of the men in the party had blood stains on his coat sleeve, but there was no evidence of a wound on his body, so far as a hurried examination made by the police before they were locked up, disclosed.

LIMA MAN ARRESTED

BUFFALO, N. Y. — A man giving his name as Hurley Arnold, Lima, was arrested Wednesday, held for the federal grand jury, on a charge of transporting liquor.

Arnold was arrested at 1:30 this morning, at Batavia, New York. A prohibition agent says he suspected Arnold's car was not loaded with a legal cargo and that Arnold admitted readily that it carried booze, when he was questioned.

Arnold said that he was taking the booze from Oswego, New York to Lima.

HOME OF PRIEST IS DYNAMITED

STRUTHERS, O. — (By Associated Press.) — The parish house of Holy Trinity Czechoslovak Catholic church was dynamited early Wednesday, the porch being blown off. No one was injured.

The house is occupied by Rev. John Frena, recently installed priest, against whose appointment a protest was made by members of the church who for a time maintained an armed guard to prevent his taking possession.

Protesting members of the church declared that the former incumbent, Rev. Joseph Zalibera, was removed because he urged autonomy for the Slovaks, and that Rev. Frena was installed because he favored the Czechoslovakian union. Officials of the church organization in Cleveland, however, denied any political motive in the removal and appointment.

The explosion broke all the windows in one side of the parish hall, and in one side of the church, and also broke windows in a hall across the street.

SHERIFF RESCUES HARDING PARTY

Officer Puts Crimp in Lone Restaurant's Profiteering.

TOWN OFFENDERS 'HITCHED'

President-Elect Again Tries Luck at Fishing.

POINT ISABEL, Tex. — (By United Press.) — Undaunted by his failure to land a big tarpon after a 40-minute struggle, President-elect Harding ventured out into the bay again Wednesday to try his luck once more.

Senator Harding also spent considerable time consulting the best minds of this little fishing village, regarding cures for mosquito bites and sunburn, both afflictions having been visited on the president-elect as liberally as on lesser persons here.

The sheriff, who carries an imposing revolver hung in full view of the inhabitants, put a crimp in profiteering here Wednesday. When prices of the lone restaurant were jacked up over 100 per cent on the Harding party, there were rumblings of a soviet outbreak. These got to the sheriff, who hurried over and spoke a few words of emphatic Mexican to the proprietor. Prices were lowered at the next meal.

PRISONERS HITCHED

Point Isabel's penal institution, which measures eight by ten feet, was called into play to curb three of the villagers who were unable to contain themselves in the excitement attending Harding's visit here. Prisoners are hitched to a large iron ring in the center of the calaboose floor. Members of the party are remaining indoors at night now. A scouting expedition Tuesday night reported seeing a wolf and a coyote on the outskirts of the village and inquiry among the natives developed that wolves, coyotes and bobcats are frequently seen around the point.

Preparations are being made for a large Armistice Day celebration at Brownsville Thursday.

Harding has taken to tarpon fishing, line, hook and sinker. He cancelled his plans for golfing Wednesday, and was out at sunup across the bay to where the best fishing is. Had the troll line not broken, Harding would have landed his big catch Tuesday.

Mrs. Harding does not fancy sitting out in a boat in the hot sun all day, and she is spending her part of the vacation in the seclusion of the Greger cottage. Dressed in the most comfortable light clothes, Mrs. Harding is dividing her time between reading, chatting with friends and her daily siesta.

PARTY ROUGHING IT

Altho the primitive life is beginning to tell on some members of the party, most of them are roughing it with great relish.

Senator David S. Atkins, millionaire coal baron, resembles a broiled lobster now, but he talks of nothing but the bites he is having. He landed a tarpon 5 1/2 feet long his first time out.

Harry M. Daugherty, prominent Ohio lawyer and Harding's official adviser, all his life having to put the collar buttons in his shirt himself, decided he must live like a gentleman down here, and now he has a Mexican to lay out his floppy yellow trousers every morning. The Mexican acquired a white naval officer's cap shortly after he got his job and he sits in great state outside Daugherty's room ready to go out in the back yard of the hotel and get a pail of water for his master's bath at any moment. The hotel proprietor, it was discovered Wednesday, cast the lone vote Governor Cox got in the village.

SOME MOTHER'S SON, WAR HERO, GIVEN ROYAL HONORS

LONDON—(United Press)—Some mother's son, who fought, died and was buried unknown, came back to England Wednesday to be buried with a field marshal's honors.

The body, picked at random from among the silent hosts at Ypres, will be buried Thursday in Westminster Abbey, where it will rest with the remains of the British statesmen, rulers and warriors.

Whether the casket which arrived Wednesday from France, contained the remains of English, Scotch, Irish, Welsh, Australian or Canadian was not known. No attempt was made to identify the body in any way. Every mother who lost a son with the British forces could feel that this might be her boy.

MILITARY HONORS

The body arrived in Boulogne, Tuesday, where it was received with the highest honors. French and British troops participating in the reception.

The casket was carried thru lanes of soldiers at "present arms" to the British destroyer Verdun.

Flanked by French destroyers, the funeral ship steamed across the channel to Dover, passing into the harbor as cannon from the forts rared their salute of 19 guns. Other honors to which field marshal is entitled, were paid, as the casket was carried from the destroyer to the special train which started immediately for London.

HISTORIC FLAG USED

On arrival here, the remains were placed on the Chappelle Ardente in the Victoria station, where they remained over night, under a grenadier guard.

An historic flag, used at innumerable funerals after the fighting at Ypres, covered the coffin whose plate was inscribed:

"A British Warrior who fell in the Great War 1914-1918 for King and Country."

The route of the Armistice Day procession was barricaded Wednesday indicating authorities expected an unprecedented crowd to pay honor to "Tommy Atkins." Only ticket holders will be permitted in White Hall and the Abbey after 10 a. m. Thursday.

FAIL OF QUORUM AT SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

School Board meeting scheduled for Tuesday night was called off when not enough members reported to comprise a quorum.

J. E. Collins, superintendent of schools, said Wednesday that the matter of the school bonds was to have come up for discussion.

A market for the $200,000 worth of deficiency bonds cannot be found, which blocks plans of the board. However, Mr. Collins said, sufficient funds remain in the treasury to take care of the school until December 20, when the law allows that withdrawals may be made from the school's share of the city and county taxes.

'Y' NIGHT SCHOOL

Classes Will Be Offered to Lima Citizens Soon.

At a meeting of the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night, was definitely decided that a class night school will be organized for men wishing to get a more thorough knowledge of electrical storage batteries.

It was also decided to offer a class in English to foreigners who speak English fairly well, but who want to go further into grammar to help them in connection with securing their citizenship papers.

Due to the majority of men wishing this course working at nights, classes will be held in the 'Y' each Wednesday morning from 10:30 to 11:30 o'clock, starting November 17. P. R. Marshall will teach the class.

The course includes history, geography, government and language lessons.

INFANTS' RATTLES ARE CLASSED AS ATHLETICS APPARATUS IN MICHIGAN

LANSING, Mich. — Infants' rattles are henceforth to be classed as athletic apparatus by the Michigan state board of education. Tom Biggers, the commission's chairman, so decided Tuesday, when application for a "bale of baby rattles" was made by Superintendent Montgomery of the state school for orphans and abandoned children at Coldwater.

Among the commission's duties is the distribution among schools of athletic goods purchased with a fund drawn from boxing bouts in the state.

The Coldwater requisition was the first to include athletic equipment for such young athletes, but Biggers was quick to decide that rattles could be so classed. The state's wards at Coldwater range in age from several months to sixteen years.

CANS FOR RUBBISH IN "CLEANER LIMA" PROGRAM

Service Director Elmer McClain is considering the purchase of several galvanized iron receptacles, neat in design, to be placed at street corners in the downtown business section, to receive waste paper, etc., that citizens usually drop to the sidewalk or throw into the street. This is part of a "Cleaner Lima" program. If finances will permit, the Service will buy a half dozen for the purpose of a tryout. If citizens take to the idea of helping keep Lima streets and walks clean, more of the receptacles will be bought. The street cleaning department will attend to the task of emptying the cans.

C. M. FISHER GIVEN CONTRACT FOR SIDEWALKS

"Proper owners who have been notified to construct new walks in front of their properties and who have failed to do so and do not wish the city contractor to do the work and the cost made a lien against their property, had better get busy quick," Service Director Elmer McClain said Wednesday.

C. M. Fisher was the only contractor who presented a bid for the sidewalk work, at 35 cents per square foot. The estimate on the total of the work is $7,000, but this is being reduced by property owners having walks laid at present. An appropriation of $5,000 has been made by council for sidewalk construction.

"Fisher will be on the job building walks, Thursday," McClain said.

U. S. SENATORS TO STEAM SELVES

Luxurious Baths, Abandoned 8 Years Ago, Coming Back.

READY FOR NEXT SESSION

Cobwebs Being Cleared from Graeco-Roman System.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—The Graeco-Roman baths of the United States senate, installed nearly eight years ago, but never put into service, are now being cleared of the cobwebs and stains of time, and will be in shape to offer their luxuries of steam, plunge, shower and electricity to the members of the new senate when it assembles. Charges of extravagance were aimed at the baths in congressional debate when the power of administration last swung from Republican to Democratic and as a result the baths, installed in the then new senate office building, were shorn of their expensive equipment, bereft of their attendants and left to gloom.

UNDER NEW PLAN
The marble slabs, Turkish rugs and steam proof tables and chairs were turned over to government hospitals and only the marble shells and nickel fittings left in place.

Now, however, the baths are coming back, but under a new plan. Members of the senate themselves will pay a large part of the operating expenses, and a special unofficial committee has taken charge of the assessments, which will be levied against each senator in proportion to the service he exacts. The baths will be somewhat less gorgeous than the original plan anticipated, but in their luxury and completeness will still have claim to comparison with private club installation.

COST MANY THOUSANDS
Senators will be able to steam themselves out in a series of marble hot rooms, resuscitate themselves on the drying room cois, invigorate under one of the several types of needle and drench showers and float in the swimming size plunge.

They also can try massage, the electric cabinet or the prickling shocks from the static machine.

Installation of the baths cost many scores of thousands and some senators at least feel that the waste of letting the equipment lie dormant is as great as any expense that may be encountered in putting them into service.

E. church. The Rev. A. A. Thomas, former pastor, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Charles Fulkerson, present pastor. Interment will be at Dupont, Putnam-co.

Death was due to pneumonia after an illness of two weeks. The boy was a student in the eighth grade at South High School. Besides the parents two sisters and a brother survive.

EPIDEMIC GROWS DESPITE BATTLE

New Typhoid Cases at Salem Are Reported Hourly.

ALLIANCE, O. — (By Associated Press)—Many new cases of typhoid fever have developed in Salem as a result of the epidemic there, within the past twenty-four hours. No deaths, however, have occurred at that time, but many cases are reported as having taken a critical turn. State and federal authorities arrived Tuesday and worked practically all of Tuesday night, in hope of clearing the situation.

A joint meeting was held, convening at 9:30 Wednesday morning in which state and federal men, members of the Business Men's Association, Board of Health and Chamber of Commerce participated.

Dr. W. Dittos, chief engineer of the department, Dr. F. G. Bordeau, epidemicologist, Dr. F. Oldt, district supervisor, F. H. Waring, assistant engineer, Ross Hopkins, assistant epidemicologist, Dr. E. R. Shaffer and Dr. F. F. Mahoney, of the state department of health, were all present.

At this meeting a plan of work is to be mapped out, which will include a careful examination of the recently developed cases, records secured concerning the possible source of infection, and sanitary investigation of every home in Salem. This far it has been impossible to check the spread of the epidemic, new cases being reported hourly from various parts of the town. It is reported that the total number of cases now reach close to seven hundred.

FAMOUS SURGEON HOLDS CLINIC

Many Crippled Children May Walk Again as Result.

It was a sad sight to behold Tuesday afternoon at the Elks' Home when nearly fifty crippled boys and girls assembled there, accompanied by their parents, to be examined by Dr. John Rodin, Chicago, a famed physician for his treatment of crippled children.

Some of the kiddies had been carried to the room on the second floor, while others used crutches and supports to get to the doctor.

A ray of hope beamed in the eye of each as they were helped to the room in which the physician was conducting his examinations. Some of the smaller babies, carried in the arms of anxious mothers, cried and protested against being taken by the doctor.

HOPE HELD OUT

In some cases parents were told that their children would remain crippled thru life, while others were told that by proper treatment they could be permanently cured.

Mothers gasped at the verdict of the "miracle man" who was being dictated to a stenographer, and when in some cases he said a cure was impossible, parents broke down and wept with their hope of life lying helpless on the surgeon's white table.

An operation was advised in a few cases and local physicians were instructed how it should be done. Such work will be made possible by the Rotary club, which brought the specialist to Lima, if parents are unable to meet the expense of treatment.

As supper time came and babies became restless, they were taken into the Elks' banquet hall where a delicious meal was prepared for them.

After all had been fed and rested, examinations were resumed and by 8 o'clock all had been examined.

Some of the more extreme cases were detained and presented before local physicians at a clinic at 8:25.

DEALERS COMPLAIN OF POOR QUALITY OF COAL

Making a survey of the Lima fuel situation, Mayor F. A. Burkhardt stated Wednesday that local dealers are not at all satisfied with the quality of coal they are receiving. In fact, the chief executive of the city said, the grade of coal available is very poor.

Mild weather is holding down the demand and citizens generally are playing a waiting game. Expecting better coal and lower prices. Severe cold weather will very likely precipitate an acute situation, the Mayor believes.

WOMAN IS SENTENCED TO THE WORKHOUSE

Lulu Morton, 28, E. Wayne, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days of the Toledo workhouse Wednesday morning by Judge Emmet Jackson.

She was arrested at police headquarters Tuesday night by Captain Dawson when she appeared there in an intoxicated condition and asked officers to "help her find her sweet heart," according to Judge Jackson.

Several weeks ago the Morton woman was arrested and ordered by Judge Jackson to take treatment at the clinic. According to the judge, she failed to do so after promising the court that she would.

Sergeant Goshel left with the woman a few hours after she had been sentenced, to place her in the workhouse.

BOY'S TESTIMONY IN COURT SUIT

Campbell Lad Tells How His Brother Met Death.

Testimony of John Campbell, 7, brother of five year-old Charles Campbell figured prominently in the trial of S. D. Campbell, administrator of the estate of Charles Campbell, his son, for damages for $12,000 against the Sigma Theatre company and builders of the theatre.

On the witness stand, the little fellow, almost too young to talk plain, told of his trip to the new building on the evening of March 22, last, in court Wednesday, and of their ascent to the top of the spiral stairway, from which Charles fell to his death.

He acknowledged workmen had driven him and several other companions from the building twice before, because they feared accidents to the boys, but they made it up between them to visit the building after the workmen had gone on the night of the fatality. He said an older boy took his little brother and led him to the building, where he finally met death.

Young Campbell's father is suing, charging the spiral stairway to the top of the building, a distance of 30 feet was not guarded and the opening to the alley allowed to remain open. He charges negligence. The child fell the entire distance, suffering a fractured skull, from which he died a few hours afterward.

The jury will probably take the case late Wednesday afternoon.

Defendants are the Sigma Theatre company, Harry L. DeWitt, A. G. Orr, Howard E. Miller and the Lima Cut Stone company.

Survivor of the "Lima" returned Tuesday afternoon from a week's visit at his home in White Plains, New York.

With the resignation of J. E. Morton as secretary of the Lima Merchants' Association taking effect December 31, the activities of the association are to be reduced, according to President A. C. Calacab. Arrangements are expected to be made to have the organization function thru the Chamber of Commerce. A committee has been appointed to work out such a plan. The credit rating bureau is to be maintained, with Miss Blanche Shutt in charge, Calacab stated.

Hon. John F. Maher of Greenville, expected to address Lima Council Knights of Columbus Tuesday evening, was unable to be present. L. W. Wessel, one of the members of the lodge, favored the meeting with a vocal program.

J. E. Morton, secretary of the Lima Kiwanis club, left Tuesday afternoon for Columbus, to attend a meeting of Kiwanis secretaries of the Ohio district, on Wednesday. Mr. Morton will deliver an address on "Cleveland's Convention and Ohio Day." The International convention is to be held in Cleveland in June of 1931 and Mr. Morton is the chair man of the convention committee.

A luncheon meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at noon Friday, at the Lima Club, when it is expected that action will be taken on the selection of a secretary to succeed Irving K. Lincoln, resigned.

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY—A NATION-WIDE INSTITUTION

A Nation Wide Reduction on Men's Clothing of All Kinds

The long expected has happened. The J. C. Penney Co. is glad to always be first to announce frankly to the people locally any great reductions in merchandise. We also state truthfully that as lower levels are found for all merchandise you will find them reflected at once in our own price to you.

Whether it be in clothing, shoes or dry goods, you can count on the superior method of merchandising of the J. C. Penney Co. to save you money.

THESE ARE OUR REASONS: Manufacturers of men's clothing have been producing with all the energy and ability at their command. At the same time, selling slowly. Retail stores throughout America, realizing the turn of the tide, have been buying reluctantly — others with orders already placed, have been sending in cancellations. Such a condition can result in but one way. Manufacturers, suddenly facing a situation of loaded warehouses and no sale, have looked for an outlet regardless of costs.

THE J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, being enormous buyers, were confronted with a buying privilege that made it possible to be among the leaders in retail merchandising, to help the situation. As a result, each of our 297 stores now has an opportunity to undersell on clean, new stylish winter clothes for men. Our quota has arrived, and we want every man in and around Lima to receive this message of economy. It matters not whether you want an everyday suit, a dressy suit, overcoat, or other kinds of clothing, you will find an opportunity to buy here at fractional prices.

We Are Featuring Men's Clothing in Five Great Groups:

Group 1 13.50	Group 2 24.75	Group 3 27.50	Group 4 32.50	Group 5 39.50

MUNICIPAL BODY MEETS NOV. 17

League Will Discuss Primary Laws at Indianapolis.

NEW YORK — Representatives from all parts of the United States will assemble in Indianapolis November 17 to 19 to attend the twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Municipal League. It was announced today at the headquarters of the league in New York. More than five hundred city officials, teachers of Government and experts in politics will be present. A feature of the program will be a speech by Charles E. Hughes, president of the league, on the "Fate of the Direct Primary." Mr. Hughes fought long and hard for the adoption of the primary system in New York in place of the old convention system of nominating political candidates. Governor Goodrich, of Indiana, and Professor Charles E. Merriam, former Alderman and candidate for Mayor of Chicago, will also speak on how the primary may be saved against the attacks of those who demand a return to the convention system. Other subjects on the program as announced today include an address by Luther C. Steward, president of Federal Employees, on the right of governmental employees to organize and strike, and talks by representatives of Canada, England and the United States on what has been done to meet the housing crisis. Robert Blackmore, manager of the North Dakota House Building Association, will tell about the Non-Partisan League efforts to build houses under State aid in North Dakota.

A full session will be devoted to the street railway situation. Special attention will be paid to service at cost recommended in the recent report of the Federal Electric Railway Commission to President Wilson. James F. Jackson, chairman of the Public Trusts of the Boston Elevated Railway; Fielder Sanders, chairman of the Street Railroad Commission of Cleveland, and E. I. Lewis, chairman of the Public Service Commission of Indiana, are among the speakers announced. The National Association of Civic Secretaries and the governmental Research Conference will meet at the same time and place. Joint sessions will be held with the Indiana Association of Commercial Secretaries. The session with the latter will be on the subject of the latest evidence on how the city manager plan works. City managers from all over the United States will be present to take part in the discussion. The committee appointed last year at the Cleveland meeting to draft a model State constitution will make a report calling for a single house legislature, with the governor the only other elected official. The governor is to have sole power of appointment and removal of heads of departments and to have a seat in the Legislature, with power to introduce bills, but no power to vote.

A. J. GRAY SUCCEEDS MINOR CROSSLEY AS COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Probate Judge F. C. Becker Tuesday afternoon, approved the bond of A. J. Gray of Ferry-tp, elected as county commissioner to fill the unexpired term of J. L. Health, and will serve as short term member of the board until September of 1921 when he enters upon a term of four years, to which he was elected at the same time, on November 2. The bond is in the sum of $5,000, with A. J. Ausman, G. A. Rumbaugh and A. E. Gale as sureties. Mr. Gray received his commission from Governor Cox, his election having been certified by the Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Elections of Allen-co to the secretary of state.

Mr. Gray succeeds Minor Crossley appointed as a member of the board until the November election. His bond was filed with County Treasurer Lehr E. Miller.

The board of commissioners is now composed of James MacKenzie, Walter Craig and A. J. Gray, two Republicans and one Democrat.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, purging cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards covered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath. Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 50c.

GLEN I. WALLACE IS SLATED

Will Succeed Bernard Holloran
as Clerk to Commissioners.

Glen I. Wallace, defeated candidate on the Republican ticket for county clerk of courts, will be clerk to the board of Allen-co commissioners, according to prophecy at the court house. The appointment will be made Wednesday or Thursday.

With A. J. Gray, Perry-tp, assuming the office of county commissioner, in place of Minor Crossley, who was filling out the unexpired term of James Heath, deceased, until the November 2 election, the board of commissioners becomes Republican in majority. James G. Mackenzie, Democratic member of the board, remains until next September, when J. W. Thompson, Republican, becomes the third member.

The Republican county executive committee has given endorsement to the appointment of Wallace. Herbert F. Neuffer, 523 McPherson-ave, clerk appointed by W. W. Craig, present commissioner, and James Heath, deceased, upon taking office a year ago last September and who served only a few weeks, which removed after the board became Democratic in majority with the appointment of Crossley, after Heath's death, is also a candidate.

Other men in the field for the place are, Ray John, 905 N. James-son-ave and William A. Harbaugh.

951 Belmont-ave.
Wallace will succeed Bernard Holloran who served very efficiently and acceptably to the members of the board, as clerk. Mr. Holloran expects to locate in Chicago, permanently, after closing up his affairs here.

BOTTOM REACHED ON PRICES

Bankers and Business Men See
New Price Level Basis.

In the belief of economists and Wall street sages the bottom has been touched on prices, both wholesale and retail and fluctuations will be upward, rather than downward from now until spring, except for the extreme swings which certain lines of business may require.

The drastic liquidation of invoices by retailers over the country are bringing bargains to the consumer, and no where are price cuts on a broader scale than right here in Lima. People who need things have been buying steadily at the reduced prices during the past two weeks. Merchants who are the heaviest advertisers in The Lima News have been doing immense business day in and day out. It is a peculiar fact that the merchant who has spent the most money for advertising is the merchant who has money in the bank and is replacing goods at the lowest and newest wholesale prices.

Only in one line is it beginning to become apparent that lower prices will be impossible. There is very little furniture in warehouses and quotations on replacements are higher, furniture men say. Buying of furniture in Lima started Saturday on a broad scale. A big furniture dealer talking to The News financial editor yesterday said:

"To our best knowledge, no general reductions from present levels can possibly take place in our line. Manufacturing costs at furniture centers can not be reduced, and freight rates apply on furniture more acutely because of bulk. The public is beginning to realize this and has abandoned its waiting attitude, as shown by this week's big sales."

A TERRIBLE GOITRE

Relieved for Troy Lady by External Home Remedy.

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if they were not true.

Mrs. Dora Cox, 8 No. Market St., Troy, O., says in her own home paper, the Troy Miami Union: "I used Sorbol Quadruple a year ago and it has completely relieved me of a terrible inward goitre. I was so short of breath, could not see my eyes for reading or sewing, could not stoop over. I was so nervous and my heart would feel like it would jump out. My throat would throb and choke me. Could not wash or sweep at all. Was in bed part of the time. I have been doing my washing, and all my own work since last summer. My whole system is stronger and my throat does not bother me at all. I am as well as I was before I had goitre. If anyone cares to write me, I will be glad to answer."

Sorbol Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate. Does not interfere with daily work. Leaves the parts in healthful normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily.

SHIPPING BOARD GRAFT CHARGED

Investigators Report Findings to House Committee.

SUPPLIES STOLEN, CLAIM

"Improperly Drawn Contracts" Costly, Probers Say.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—Charges that the activities of the shipping board have resulted in an enormous waste of government funds are contained in a report submitted to the house committee of shipping board operations by two former employees of the board, A. W. Fisher and J. F. Richardson, who for more than a year have conducted an investigation for the committee.

The report, released for publication Wednesday by the committee, of which Representative Vaisel, Republican, Massachusetts, is chairman, states that the investigators found evidence of graft in the purchase of supplies for repairing government-owned ships, of corruption on the part of officials and employees of the shipping board emergency fleet corporation and of the use of political and other influence in negotiating contracts for construction and allocation of vessels.

FINDINGS GROUPED
The investigators grouped their observations under seven general heads, representing various phases of the shipping board activities. They declared that improperly drawn contracts had cost the government a large sum, that some divisions of the board had failed to operate efficiently and that others had failed completely to function properly.

The report charged that payrolls had been padded by some of the firms which repaired government-owned vessels and that there had been a heavy loss to the government as a result of wholesale theft of supplies and equipment from ships.

"INTERESTED IN SUPPLIES"
The investigators also reported to the committee that companies operating government vessels had in some instances owned stock in companies which furnished supplies to ships at prices ranging as high as 50 per cent above wholesale costs.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Mustardole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Mustardole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

BETTER THAN WHISKY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinol, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Five Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinol, the two minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinol and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies. For Aspirinol is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

PARIS APPROVES OF ORNATE COIFFURE

BY ELOISE

Fashionable women are paying more attention to their coiffure now than ever before. That is, women who have left their hair long are spending much time and thought on new styles of hairdressing. There is a bare possibility that they are favoring the new and ornate coiffures just to draw attention away from their bobbed-haired sisters who have held the center of the stage for so long. Paris is favoring many new styles in hair dress which are suitable only for very formal evening wear.

Here is a very girlish and becoming method of combing the hair which is extremely becoming. The two birds of paradise held in place by a beaded band is a very stunning ornament for wear with low cut evening gowns and formal dinner frocks. The band, in fact, is the only part of the coiffure which marks it as very formal, for without the band the hair would be suitably dressed for almost any occasion. No net is worn upon formal occasions, but would be necessary for street wear.

Mrs. Veronica McCray, S. Metcalf-st., will entertain the members of the Wednesday Bridge club at her home, Wednesday evening.

PECKO coughed for an hour after leaving until Mother thought of Kemp's Balsam. A half teaspoonful quickly relieved the irritation, after which she soon went to sleep.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

Like a flash Billy drew out his knife and cut the rope. There was a wild yell from below and a screech of curses and imprecation following a rather sickening sounding thud, which persuaded Billy, peering down from above, that the victim's lungs at least were unimpaired, and then to this great amazement a shot went winging up past his ear.

"Had a gun all the time—too fighting mad to think of it—knife more natural," he thought anxiously, sliding down the other side in a jiffy and then jerking his ladder down flat on the ground.

Out in the shadows the one-eyed man was paddling earnestly to safety. The shot so close at hand had been his sign for departure; he did not look back at Billy's shrill whistling nor his wilder shouts, and as the yells on the other side of the wall were bringing the inmates of the palace upon him, Billy had no more time for persuasion.

Off went his shoe and out into the canal he flung them, then heading for the dark and unlit water and struck out to the right, in the same direction in which the canoe was going, keeping carefully in the shadow of the bank, on the other side.

In a few moments the canoe was lost from sight and Billy was left alone, swimming between two steep walls of old palaces, weighed down by his tweeds, and maddened thru and thru with his inability to wring the neck of the one-eyed canoeist. The distance seemed unending to his slow progress but at last the palms of the cemetery appeared upon the right hand bank, and he struck across the widening waters and climbed out on the first foot of the graveyard that presented itself.

A dozen rods farther on the Arab was awaiting him in the canoe. Billy's mood did not invite conversation and he did not linger for the other's explanations, but calling to him to wait he made in thru the cemetery, dodging fearfully from tomb to tomb, till he reached the entrance of the main road.

The motor was gone. He satisfied himself of that, and a wave of rejoicing surged thru him. That motor was to wait till one or the other arrived with the girl and then leave with all speed, while the other was to be left to the slower canoe. He was sure, now, that Falconer had succeeded in carrying the thing thru and Billy's heart warmed to him. Then, for the first time, he felt something numb and queer about his left arm and putting his hand on it he found the sopping sleeve was torn and a warm ooze of blood welling thru the cold water from the canal.

"Aish, the chap winged me!" was his startled exclamation. "Feels as if it's going to sleep—glad it didn't go back on me in the ditch, there." Then he pressed back into the shadows for he saw a figure edging forward beyond the corner of a tomb. After a moment's hesitation it came directly toward him. He saw it was Robert Falconer.

Foreboding gripped him and he could scarcely keep himself from shouting his eager question, but he hurried forward till the two stood face to face and then "Where is she? Did you get her?" burst from him, and "Have you got her? Is she all right?" came at the same instant from Falconer.

Blankly they stared at each other and a cold sense of failure went over and over Billy like a sea. "Didn't you see her at all?"

"Did you?" counter-demanded Falconer, and Billy stammered, "Why no I—found the room empty, and I thought you were safe off with her."

"Safely off?" said Falconer grimly. "I got in all right, the door must be a new lock on the door of that room up top, but I made some noise about it and ran plump into a fellow half way down the stairs. I threw him the rest of the way down, and he fired and brought a couple of others swarming up at me but I got out on the roof again and gave them the slip. They went tearing back along the wing toward the garden the way I'd come and I went toward the street and got down."

"Got down!" How did you get down?"

"Over those bar window places," said the Englishman briefly. "I tied that cord I had to one of the jutting old cornices to start with."

ter go straight to the consul now?"

"I think," said Falconer coldly, "that we had better telegraph the Evershams to see if they have had any word from her before we stir up any hue and cry."

"All right," said Billy, and then he gave a short laugh. "Lord, we shall be quarreling like a couple of backyard dames next. Of course, we're chagrined. It's our satisfaction to reflect that we did our best—and if you are still uncertain about Miss Beecher's danger there I can't blame you for seeing the folly of the business."

After this effort of pleasantness Billy subsided into the cab that was most welcomingly discovered, rousing after some minutes of violent protest to change their direction to the English doctor's.

"Winged," he said briefly, to Falconer's question. "Watchman chap as I was getting over the wall. Nothing wrong, I know, but it feels like—fire," he substituted.

Falconer was instantly concerned, but his sympathy went against the grain. Billy was too stirred for consolation. At the doctor's he refused to have Falconer enter with him.

"No use in having both of us traced if there is to be any trouble about this," he said with decision. "Go ahead and telegraph the Evershams and get an answer as soon as possible."

He had no earthly belief in that answer, and great, therefore, was his astonishment when, as he was walking the floor with his tingling arm in the early morning hours, a telegram was sent to him which Falconer had just received. His wife had caught the boat at Rhoda where it tied up for the night and Mrs. Eversham had promptly answered.

"We have heard from Miss Beecher," she said, "and she may join us later. Her address just Cook's, Alexandria."

He could not bear to think of Arlee. He felt now that, warned by Falconer's approach from above, they had snatched her from her room and hidden her away. He wondered if he deceived the Captain about the motives for his presence. He wondered what in the world could be done now—if all effort was to resolve itself into the futility of an official search-party. He wondered where in all that baffling prison Arlee was hidden.

Upon that tormenting question he unlocked his lips. "Where is she?" he muttered worriedly. "That's the question—where is she?"

"In Alexandria."

Plainly the Englishman's wrath had been smoldering. Billy turned upon him fiercely.

"In that palace, I tell you."

"So say you."

"And I say, too," and Billy's exasperation strained its bonds, "that if you don't believe she was there—if you think I got up this little party to while away an idle evening, why it was most uncommon good of you to come! But I can't think why you did it if you weren't convinced of the necessity. Certainly it was not from love of me."

"Rather not."

"That goes double. . . . But you wouldn't deny the facts and you did come. Because we failed doesn't change the facts at all. She's there—only where? Had we better?"

A GREAT TREAT FOR MARY AND TOM

It was amusing to see Mary's face when we went into the Blackstone. Surprise, amazement, curiosity were so blended that her expression of delight brought a hearty laugh from Tony.

"I see you are going to approve my choice of a place to dine, Miss Murphy," he said, as he walked with her, leaving me with Tom—another proof of his kindness of heart, I thought.

Tom was a bit awkward, but he did not show his feelings as plainly as did Mary. She fairly bubbled. Tony had reserved a table for four, and at Mary's plate and mine were corsage bouquet of lovely rosebuds. Mary looked at me, and when I pinned mine on she did the same, first holding them across to Tom, so he could smell them.

"Ain't—aren't they lovely?" she said to me.

"Indeed they are."

"Do men like him?" she glanced at Tony who, busy with the waiter, was paying no attention to her for the moment, "always buy girls flowers when they take them out to dinner?"

"Not always, Mary."

"Ain't it—aren't—no, isn't it just grand?" she asked in a stage whisper. Tony heard this time, and replied:

"I am glad you're pleased, Miss Murphy."

"Pleased! It is just like I have always thought Heaven would be. Lovely music, lights, everybody looking happy. It's mighty good of you, Mr. Deland, to ask Tom and me."

"It's mighty good of Tom and you to come," Tony replied with a smile. "Here comes the waiter. I hope I have ordered things you like."

Tony had ordered a very beautiful dinner, but had left out the vegetables.

very low down held on by straps of jol.

Tony heard and laughed. Afterwards he said it was more at Mary's expression than at what she said.

Mary was a bit embarrassed and said nothing further about the gowning of the women. But her remarks were really funnier than anything on the stage.

"She's a whole show in herself," Tony said in an aside to me.

"And such a dear," I replied.

"I'll bet she is! No one could help liking her."

I made up my mind to repeat that remark to Mary. She was apt to underestimate herself.

On our way out I saw Mr. Claxton.

"It was a nice dinner," I said, then added: "Mr. Deland always knows how to do the right thing."

"Do you know, Zena, I think that's what makes him so nice. It just seems to know what Tom and we would enjoy. I'll bet now he would have had a lot of them queer dishes with fancy names if you and him had been alone. But he knew Tom and me wouldn't like them, because we ain't used to that kind of eating. But it WAS good of him to bring us to this stylish place, plain folks like us."

"You heard what he said, that it was good of you to come, and I agree with him. She's there he comes now."

"I have secured tickets to a show. I hope you haven't seen it," he said as he sat down. We had not, of course, and we left at once.

He had four seats in the orchestra, near the front of the house. It was a musical comedy and Mary was so delighted that she kept laughing with her quaint remarks. Tom, too, seemed to enjoy every bit of the play. During intermission Mary whispered:

"Backs seem to be the part of their bodies women like to show at the theater, don't they, Zena?" In front of us was a large woman her

"I know an easy way to clear your skin."

"My skin was even worse than yours, and I, too, had tried so many remedies I was discouraged. But Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap relieved the soreness almost immediately, and I was amazed when the blotches began to disappear and the pores to clear. In a short time my skin was perfectly healthy. Do give the Resinol treatment a trial." At all druggists.

Let's Get Together and Talk Over the New Way of Cooking during

"GARLAND" SIMPLE ACTION WEEK

Mr. Hemsteger, Factory Demonstrator, is here, and will explain these facts to you November 9, 10, 11, 12

No one wants to be lectured or told what to do—we believe the women of this community to be as fine a lot of bakers as can be found in the country, so in arranging for this "GARLAND" Simple Action Week, we are doing something different than ever was done before.

Instead of the old fashioned, formal demonstration idea, we have decided to have just an informal gathering of the "good cooks" of this community, where they can talk over baking problems, and enjoy a lunch cooked on the great "GARLAND" Simple Action Range.

Incidentally too, and of vital importance to good cooks will be an opportunity to talk over the new way of cooking, with gas, coal or wood, and to learn something that a great many women of course already know—the difference that a "GARLAND" Range makes in cooking or baking.

We invite you to come in any day during the week. Notice particularly the range set up in our window with its numerous superiorities prominently displayed.

Let us show you how these unusual "GARLAND" features can be applied to your own cooking and baking problems.

More than four million American homes are "GARLAND" equipped—if yours is not, we want to show you why others are so satisfied.

MINOR LEAGUES SILENT AS AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUE FORCES ARGUE FOR AND AGAINST LASKER PLAN OF GOVERNING BASEBALL

BAN JOHNSON ASKS MINORS TO REJECT LASKER PROPOSAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—With the opening shots fired in the scramble to win the support of the National Association of Minor Leagues, August Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati Nationals, and a leader in the organization of the new twelve club league, is to address the convention of minor leaguers here today in an appeal for endorsement of the Lasker plan for baseball re-organization.

Mr. Herrmann will attempt to offset the favorable impression created among the minor league leaders yesterday by Ban Johnson, president of the American League and George W. Miller, the American League attorney, who urged the minors to appoint a committee of three to meet with a similar committee from the major leagues in a final effort to avert a baseball war.

President Johnson, in opposing the Lasker plan, told the minor leaguers that the management of baseball should remain in the hands of men who have devoted their lives to the sport, instead of being turned over to men outside the game.

What action the minor leaguers will take in the major league dispute remains problematical, but it is expected they will consider both plans in executive session and then refuse to take sides in the issue, leaving the threatened war to the major leagues for settlement.

"I do not see how we can be expected to take sides on this situation," said M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, today. "President Johnson of the American League very frankly asked us not to show any favor on either side."

"I think it would be the only thing to do. It is my opinion that the minor leaguers will not give any consideration to the Lasker plan, as we have done for the last two years, at least until some definite plan for a new national commission is created."

GRACE M. E. BASKETBALL TEAM PLAYS SPENCERVILLE TONIGHT

Basketball season opens tonight at Grace M. E. church, W. Kibbey-st when their team stacks up against the strong Spencerville team. Tickets have been sold for the game and it is expected that a large crowd of Lima fans will witness the first game to be played in Lima this season.

Grace has a strong team this year and members have been practicing in the church gym for the past several weeks. They are expected to start with a winning streak against Spencerville tonight.

Friday night they will play Lafayette here.

Bill Barlow, sporting editor of The Lima News, will referee the games.

At Football Camps

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan continued its preparation for Chicago Tuesday afternoon by drilling behind closed doors. A lone individual, who is expected to be named as the coach, was seen in the dressing room, but he was not allowed to enter the field.

Long workouts will continue for the remainder of the week, as Coach Yost realizes the team needs as much attention as can be given. Practice is being held under lights during the late afternoon.

NOTRE DAME

NOTRE DAME, Ind.—Indiana plays as expected by the Notre Dame freshmen puzzled the varsity Tuesday and the yearlings forward-passed their way for many big gains. Coach Rockne anticipates a battle at Indianapolis Saturday that will rival the West Point game. He said he will be satisfied with any kind of a victory, Indiana, since its defeat in the first game of the season, has improved steadily and Stehm has his men keyed up to on-schedule pitch for the contest.

Notre Dame will number its players in the Northwestern game at Evanston Nov. 20 if the purple and white outfit favors the purple. Rockne stated he has no objection to tagging his men.

MINNESOTA

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Dr. Williams Tuesday tried out a new combination for the Iowa game that may prove the strongest this season. He shifted Gus Ekberg from left end to full back, and used Gistad, a green but big fellow, at the outpost. Fred Enke was kept at center and is expected to be there Saturday. The Gophers didn't scrimmage, although Dr. Williams had his men working on the wet, slippery field to accustom them to such conditions if they should prevail in Iowa City.

CHAMP BELTS NO LONGER POPULAR

Strange as it may seem, there is no emblem in existence to-day to typify the world's heavyweight championship in the boxing line.

In the olden days a championship belt or emblem of some sort went to the winner of the big bout.

In England for centuries there was a gold belt emblematic of the championship which went to the winner in every great fight and which was handed down for centuries.

The last belt which went with the championship in this country was presented to Jake Kilrain in Baltimore 30 years ago by Richard K. Fox.

KILRAIN THE LAST

Before that time Kilrain had fought Jake Burke, the "Irish Lad," Jack Ashton, Frank Herald, Joe Godfrey and other of the great fighters of that day.

Jen Smith was champion of England at this time, and Fox gave Kilrain the belt with the understanding that he was to fight Smith, and that the belt with the prize money of $5,000 a side should go to the winner.

Besides the belt, Fox put up Kilrain's $5,000 of the stake.

This belt, which was the last competed for in this country, was 30 inches long and 8 inches wide and weighed about 200 ounces in solid silver and gold.

The design was entirely different from any prize ring belt ever offered in America or England, and its intrinsic value has never been equaled.

The work was laid out in solid silver plates and flexible silver chains, so that the belt, notwithstanding its great and ponderous weight and size, could be adjusted to the body and worn with ease.

PLATES ORNAMENTED

The plates were richly ornamented with solid gold figures, and one of these ornaments was so made that a likeness of the winner could be put in a gold frame encircled by a gold laurel leaf suspension from the bill of a full-winged eagle.

The center of the belt represented a prize ring with two men facing each other in a fighting attitude. The whole of this part was solid gold. The men were represented in full ring costume.

This belt was presented to Kilrain at Baltimore for various reasons. Although it was not presented to him there, Jake was a native of Long Island, N. Y., and he had beaten many of the best men of that vicinity.

In the early '80s Jake whipped a lot of the best of the heroes, and after whipping them he repeatedly challenged John L. Sullivan to battle. The Bostonian was slow in coming to terms, so the men who controlled the destinies of American

BALL WAR IS RAZED BY OLD FANS

Despite the ultimatums, challenges, charges, counter-charges and brick throwing now in between the two militant baseball factions, the belief still prevails in base all circles that the war will be averted.

Ban Johnson hurled a handful of verbal brick bats into the flock of National Leaguers Tuesday before the minors.

Wednesday Garry Herrmann will throw a few back.

MINORS WAKE UP

The minors after counting the casualties, will decide that they have no business muddling in major league politics, that they have been very successful shaking the bush league money plants alone and will not align themselves with either faction.

At least, is the way a few many wise followers have sized up the situation.

After Johnson and Herrmann have added their expenses to the league's profit and loss account and recovered from the loss of a lot of wasted wind, they will exchange the "Irish confetti" for rice and will start on their second honeymoon.

TOO MUCH MONEY

There is too much money tied up in both factions to take the big change necessary with a radical change in the complexion of each league's make-up.

Ban Johnson says he'll retain the same personnel for the American League by putting new clubs in New York, Chicago and Boston. But he can't do it. He hasn't and couldn't get enough money. It would take $1,000,000 to start a club in each city. Investors too "hot" for a place to lay a cool million or two, will not take a chance on an uncertain proposition like that.

The Federal League was not without its good lessons.

WAPAKONETA—Married Miss Emily Gunn and Joseph H. Wright.

pugilism declared Kilrain the champion.

Following the presentation, Kilrain was matched to fight Jim Smith, the English champion, for the world's heavyweight championship.

BRINGS BELT BACK

Kilrain and Smith came together in France, and after 100 rounds of awful fighting with their bare hands the battle was declared a draw and Jake returned to this country, bringing the belt back with him.

The English belt emblematic of the championship disappeared with Tom Sayers in 1865. He held it even after his fight with John C. Heenan, of America, in 1860.

Old-timers will recall that the Heenan-Sayers fight was declared a draw, and after that fight each of the principals was given a belt. It was at the Alhambra Theatre, in London, May 31, 1860, a few weeks after their memorable battle that the English people presented both Sayers and Heenan with magnificent belts.

SOUTH MEETS FAST TEAM SATURDAY

South Hi is practicing hard daily in anticipation of their stiff game with Fostoria to be played in Fostoria next Saturday. South is working hard on their aerial work and is expected to put up a good game against the leaders of the Trolley League.

Postoria, as usual, has a whirlwind of a team this year and has defeated good teams by big scores. They are expected to have defeated Tiffin 64-0, at the first of the season. After Tiffin had improved considerably they defeated South 62-0. This makes South Hi's chances look slim, but as the Lima public well know, South will not admit themselves defeated except after a hard fight.

WAITING FOR CENTRAL

South is looking forward to the big game Thanksgiving when they meet Central as they expect to have their open work machine perfected by that time and to give Central the fight of their lives. South and Central have been "friendly enemies" this season both teams pulling for the other and it is practically a certainty that the Thanksgiving game will be like last years—the cleanest ever played on a local field.

Miller, South center, is out of the game from a broken collar bone received last Saturday. Coach Jackson is now breaking in Barrington at center, and the Miller will be missed. Barrington is showing up good and is expected to hold down the position successfully the rest of the season.

Other South men that are keeping up the good form they have shown all season are Ireland, Shaw and Langer. These fellows are playing like wild cats at practice and will do much towards South finishing up the season successfully.

CENTRAL PRACTICES

Central held a stiff practice Tuesday night, being the first practice since the Bryan game. Kenton is claimed to have a stiff knee so Central is getting prepared by practicing on line plays.

Tuesday Fritz was shifted to left guard and Drew held down right guard. The rest of the line remains unchanged.

In the backfield Mitchell and Rotoff are putting up a good game at half back. Rotoff has improved considerably in the past two weeks with Mitchell still playing his steady, plucky game. He is an expert line plunger and kicker.

Central meets Fostoria for the final game of the season before hitting South and South will play Bowling Green on the local field. Both of these games are hard and will bring out the best in the local players.

35 ARRESTED IN RAID

CLEVELAND—Continuing their clean-up program, ordered by Mayor Fitzgerald, police Tuesday night arrested 35 men and women on the charge of gambling and disorderly conduct. The bulk of the arrests were made in a raid on a gambling club.

'RED CAP' WILSON TO MEET M'HENRY FOR SECOND BATTLE

When Happy McHenry and Red Cap Wilson meet here at Memorial Hall Monday night as the main go of the American Legion boxing carnival, Lima fight fans will see an exciting scrap from the start.

McHenry, who hails from Montpelier, Ind., wants revenge for his being knocked out by the little Italian here at the last boxing show. He was knocked down for the count just 15 seconds before the final gong, bringing to a close one of the best fights that has been staged by the Legion for some time.

McHenry, who is a good fighter and even, matched and will weigh in at 133 pounds. Charlie Best, Detroit, manager of Wilson, says his lad is confident that he can score another knockout on the Hoosier in less time that it took him before.

Since his victory over McHenry, Red Cap has knocked out Ralph Greenan, Los Angeles, who is reputed to be one of the best lightweights on the Pacific coast. It took him six rounds to put the westerner away in a scheduled 12-round bout.

Red Curry, Chicago, was knocked out by Wilson in his second round of a ten round bout not many weeks ago in Saginaw, Mich.

McHenry has been going strong recently and showed remarkable speed Monday night at Canton when he shaded Eddie Atlas. He has not as many recent knockouts to his credit as Wilson, but is a stickler and it would not surprise Lima fans if he would slip thru with a tricky blow and put an end to Red Cap.

Charlie Rogers, an Indian, fighting from the same stable as Wilson under Charley Best, has been matched with Harry "Pigiron" Turner, Lima, who has not been seen in action here for several months.

Rogers has been making a great showing in Michigan sporting circles and will put up a stiff fight against the local boy. Turner is a plucky fighter and reports from his training quarters are that he feels sure that he will be in such condition as to send the Indian back to his reservation aged with a K. O.

Patty Phelan and Battling Decker, both South Lima boys, will mix it in a six round preliminary for South Side honors.

THE FLAME TEST OF ALCOHOL

Pour an ounce of FORMULA FIVE denatured alcohol in a can lid. Light it and note the clear flame with no smoke or soot.

Light an ounce of common denatured alcohol and you will see a smoky, sooty flame which denotes the presence of benzol.

All alcohols for use in radiators must contain a poison, so in the inferior grades, a cheap benzol is used to meet this requirement.

Benzol is very injurious to copper and brass, so in FORMULA FIVE the benzol is left out and in its place is substituted the more expensive poison, Wood Alcohol.

Let us explain the many other reasons why you should insist on FORMULA FIVE

It's at the Sigma—Other Theatre News.

(By ESTHER WAGNER.)
You've seen pictures, lots of them, where you sit thru the five or six reels and at the final scene you don't know what it's all about, haven't you? "The Leopard Woman" is this sort of picture. Of course, that doesn't mean that the film is not an interesting one, for it is, only it's so illogical.

Louise Glaum is cast as the 'leopard' woman, and why they called her that is hard to guess. In Cairo she is known as a mysterious Madame, really an agent of the government. An Englishman, Culbertson by name, appears on her horizon and she immediately becomes interested, especially so when the erstwhile Culbertson is heard to remark, when invited to one of Madame's "Soirees," "I don't in the least care for any Madames or any soirees."

Which remark would make any woman camp on the trail of the man who made the remark, wouldn't it? Of course you know what a "soiree" is.

The vagaries of fate bring the girl and the man together on the desert, both bound on the same secret mission and both determined to get there first. Naturally, to make the film life-like the leopard woman succeeds in winning the Englishman's love, and we are permitted to see them, in a fond embrace, with the inevitable Egyptian moon hanging over them.

Miss Glaum is about the only actress in the business who could play the title role in this production and get away with it. House Peters as the unflinching but tender-hearted hero is splendid at all times. There are herds of chocolate-colored slaves in the production and the usual striking and fantastic costumes which Miss Glaum likes so well to affect.

And the scenery is good. But here, nature is always on the job, if no one else is.

The Sigma is featuring "The Leopard Woman."

RUBE STUFF STARTING TODAY REGENT

You bet it's rube stuff! The scheming city guy who gets his claws on to the farm—the blue-eyed country girl who elopes with him to the city—the rube brother who hikes out after her—and all the quaint old folks of Peaceful Valley—they're all in it! But isn't that the sort of a story in which you like Charlie Ray best, with the hick-humor, the sob and hefty wallop? Isn't it?

CONCERNING INVESTMENTS

America has become a nation of investors, and we make the following suggestion to those who may be contemplating making an investment in stocks or bonds.

Be sure that values of the securities you have in mind have tangible, intrinsic worth, convertible into cash if needs be. Good management and "good will" are much to be desired, but always remember that they are personal equations which can crumble overnight in incompetent hands.
Our Services are at your command in the selection of your investments.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Simpson and Stimpson had been great friends in the earlier years of their lives, but not so very long ago Stimpson took to himself a wife and now Simpson proposed to follow the noble lead.

The approach of Simpson's trial—er—triumph grew near. On the morning he intended to propose to the lovely lady, but, first of all, he had decided to have a little chat with his old friend Stimpson. "Were you all nervous when you proposed to your wife?" the single one asked the spliced. Stimpson sighed. "I wasn't," he admitted. "But if I could have foreseen the future I should have been!"

"It's just despondency that kills your husband, isn't it, Mrs. Highmore?"

"I suppose so, but a specialist is treating him for melancholia, and, you know, that's quite expensive."

50 Years Ago

a young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. He finally made up his mind to place some of his treatments before the entire United States and, moving to Buffalo, he put up what he called his Favorite Prescription, and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union.

That was fifty years ago. For fifty years this Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce's has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to.

For over fifty years some of Dr. Pierce's home medicines have been selling over the drug counters, so that more than forty-eight million bottles have been sold during that time. This speaks well for the reliability and value of Dr. Pierce's standard home remedies. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood tonic and strength-builder which contains no alcohol, yet has tonic qualities that have endeared it to the American public. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap, have long been considered a reliable vegetable laxative, in the same way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's—namely, Anuric (anti-uric-acid), has been successfully used by many thousands of people who write Dr. Pierce in unqualified terms of the benefit received—that their backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble have been completely conquered by the use of Anuric.
